@elizabethbell_colours

Combining her love for colour, texture and the natural world, Elizabeth uses a mixture of media to create works to complement home and work space.

Jason Daines
Prints

Jason's lino-cuts are all hand pressed and he likes to experiment as he prints. His designs are playful, offbeat and occasionally a little dark.

Nigel Gardner
Painting

Nigel often paints land or sea-scapes as well as still life. The intention is to produce something he could live with that conveys a feeling, sense of a place or a moment.

Ann Hines
Painting
@annhines8

Ann's paintings and linocuts are figurative, often featuring people at work or play. She will also be showing, for the first time, a new series of work, 'Nepalese Homes', using collage, acrylic ink and paint.

Iasonas Bakas
Painting
<https://bakas.co.uk>
@bakas.artist

Iasonas works in oil paint. His geometric abstract art work sources inspiration from the principles and iconic examples of architectural, interior and product design.

Jan Byrne
